Dear Dr. Lederberg:

I am sending along the results of the search of the 1964 and 1965 MEDLARS tapes on the topic you requested. These tapes contained 328,770 citations, from which 28 were retrieved for you.

✓ You will notice that the first alphabet contains 4 articles, on seasonal variation in twin births. Whether any of these contain information on weekly cycles will have to be determined from examination of the articles.

✓ The second alphabet contains 3 articles on some aspect of the process of learning in twins. Whether or not the articles deal with monozygotic twins will again have to be determined from the articles.

✓ The third alphabet of 21 articles concerns induction of labor, and contains quite a bit of noise, as you can see. But the articles by Barnes and by Gavourin seem to be right on the nose, and the article by D'Esopo may be of interest.

I hope you will find this useful.

With best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Frank B. Rogers
